POLICE COMMISSIONERS MEET

Consideration of the Right to Hold Different Offices.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Evening Star Bureau, No. 701 King st., Bell Telephone No. 106, ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 22, 1900. Mr. Joseph Broders, one of the mos prominent and best known citizens of this city, died this morning at 1:30 o'clock at his residence, No. 215 North Washington street. Death was the result of a stroke of paralysis which the deceased received yesterday morning. When on his way from his home to his place of business on Lower King street Mr. Broders was suddenly prostrated in front of the livery stable of Messrs. Patterson & Brother on Washington street. He was conveyed back to his residence, where medical aid was speedily summoned. It was seen that the stricken man's condition was critical and his rela-tives were summoned to his bedside. About 1:30 o'clock this morning he breathed his last. Mr. Broders had been paralyzed twice before and his health immediately prior to his death had been failing.

prior to his death had been failing.

Joseph Broders was born about seventy years ago in Fairfax county. Years ago he came to this city and established himself in business, and most of his life had been spent here. He was president of the First National Bank and the senior member of the firm of J. Broders & Co., a wholesale grocery house. Mr. Broders served for several years as a member of the board of aldermen and had been otherwise prominent in local affairs. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. C. C. Carlin and Mrs. J. C. Elliot of Chicago. Funeral services will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence.

Police Commissioners Meet. Police Commissioners Meet.

A meeting of the board of police commissioners was held last evening for the purpose of considering the opinion rendered by Corporation Attorney Gardner L. Boothe to the effect that a member of the police force might become a candidate for Boothe to the effect that a member of the police force might become a candidate for an elective office while still a member of the force, provided his candidacy did not conflict with the duties of his position. The question, as heretofore stated, applies to Policeman Frank C. Spinks, who has an nounced himself a candidate for the office of city sergeant. Commissioner Herbert Bryant offered a resolution that Officer Spinks be requested either to resign from the police force or to withdraw from the contest for city sergeant before March 31. The resolution was carried, Commissioners Bryant. Miller and Price voting for it and Mayor Simpson and Commissioner Noble Lindsey voting against it. Before the resolution was put to a vote Mayor Simpson called attention to section 163, code of Virginia, 1887, which provided that no person holding a position of trust, profit or emolument under the government of the United States shall hold any position as above qualified under the municipal governments of the state. This section, Mayor Simpson pointed out, applied to Commissioner Frank Price from the second ward. No action, however, was taken in the matter.

Mr. Spinks has not yet stated which course he will adopt.

A second meeting of the leading business men of this city to protest against the commissioner of valuation act was held in the office of the Alexandria Insurance Company tended and it was unanimously agreed that tended and it was unanimously agreed that if any business man of Alexandria is arrest-ed for non-compliance with the provisions of the law the others should give him every support. It was also decided to employ At-torneys James R. Caton and John M. John-son to defend any business man so ar-

FEDERATION OF LABOR. Brief Meeting of the Executive Coun-

The session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor which began at 9 o'clock this morning in Typographical Temple was a brief one, an early adjournment being taken in order that members of the body might keep appointments at the Capitol with senators and representatives, with whom interviews were to be had regarding labor legislation. On account of the necessity for a brief session no business of importance was completed.

Members of the council will appear be-Members of the council will appear before the committee on labor of the House of Representatives this afternoon to argue in favor of the eight-hour bill. Tomorrow the council will appear before the judiciary committee of the House in advocacy of the anti-injunction bill. Mr. Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago has consented to appear before the same committee to speak in favor of the bill. The council will meet again this evening.

Yesterday's Session. The council has approved an application for charter for a state federation of labor, with headquarters at Louisville, and efforts will be made for the consolidation of this body with one at Covington, which also made application under the charter issued. James Duncan of Boston, secretary of the James Duncan of Boston, secretary of the Granite Cutters' National Union, made a report regarding the national demand of that organization for an eight-hour work day. He said that there are several thousand granite cutters now on strike for the eight-hour day. He stated that the organization was in good financial condition to maintain the strike for a considerable period of time, and believed that absolute success would be achieved before the exhaustion of the funds. He, however, requested the financial assistance of organized labor, should that be necessary, and the executive council thereupon adopted a resolution to enforce an assessment upon the members of all organizations affiliated for five consecutive weeks, should it be necessary for the Granite Cutters' Union to make the application.

The application for the charter for the Beer Bottlers' International Union was rejected, and the bottlers now organized were directed to become part of the Brewery Workers' National Union, except those which are now directly affiliated to the A. F. of L., and which have agreements with their employers. The dispute between the International Union of Steam Engineers and the Coal Holsting Engineers' Union was referred to President Gompers to secure the basis of the amalgamation of both organizations.

the Case. The controversy over the election for managers, held by the Mutual Fire Insurance Company of the District in January last, which recently occupied the attention of Justice Cole in the Equity Court, and is now on appeal to the Court of Appeals, assumed another phase this afternoon. Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and D. W. Baker, on behalf of Messrs, Frederick A. Tschiffely, Jesse B. Wilson, Andrew Ar-cher, Charles W. Lehman and Samuel H. Walker, filed a bill in equity, naming as de-Walker, filed a bill in equity, naming as defendants the insurance company, Timothy W. Murphy, Richard A. Johnson, George T. Dearing and George C. Walker, and asking the court to enjoin the defendants from canceling the policies in the Mutual Company held by the complainants, and to require the former to make a proper division or distribution among the policy holders of the large surplus fund alleged to be held by the company.

By the petition the court's attention is called to the cases now upon appeal, and it is averred that at the election held January 15 the complainants were duly elected managers, but, it is alleged, by reach of the litigation referred to, the defendants are only temporarily holding over as an acting board; that as such, without, it is said, any authority, they notified the complainants the 13th instant that at the expiration of ten days their policies would be canceled and any money due the insured would then be returned. It is charged in the petition that this action was taken in an attempt to nullify the effect of an adverse decision by the Court of Appeals; that such action is a fraud upon the latter court as well as upon the complainants, and that by reason of alleged negligence and bad management on fraud upon the latter court as well as upon the complainants, and that by reason of alleged negligence and bad management on the part of the holding over board, statements rendered have been inaccurate; that the complainants carry about $91,000 insurance in the company, represented by a large number of policies, and are, it is averred, entitled to participate in a surplus fund of $50,910.31 and a fund of $36,570 due from lapsed policies, both of which, it is claimed, the defendants unlawfully refuse to distribute among the policy holders.

It is also claimed that the company is now carrying as undistributed assets $113,000 more than Congress permits it to hold, and the complainants contend that their policies represent valid and subsisting contracts which cannot be arbitrarily abrogated by the defendants before their expiration in December next.

The court is requested to enjoin the defendants from interfering in any way with the rights of complainants or other policy holders similarly situated who may care to take part in the suit. It is further prayed that the defendants he compalied to make take part in the suit. It is further prayed that the defendants be compelled to make proper distribution to the policy holders of all funds justly due them on account of the policies referred to.
